FIRE DOES DAMAGE IN A FRUIT STORE

Another Business Block Threatened When Havens Room Breaks Out
in Flames

SMOK SEEPS IN LODGE ROOM

Blaze Starts in Enclosed Office in Center of Room—Loss to M. J.
Mascari, Owner $700

Another business block was threatened by fire Monday night about 8:30 o'clock when the fruit and commission house of M. J. Mascari, 121 West Second street, was damaged to the extent of $700 and the early discovery of the blaze prevented a serious loss.

This business house is located a few doors west of the Odd Fellows building which was destroyed by fire early Friday morning. The blaze was the third serious loss in the business district within ten days, and the fire last night was the thirteenth for January and also the new year.

The fire started in the enclosed office room about the middle of the large room, and was all in flames when discovered. An overheated gas radiator left in the office was said by firemen to have caused the blaze, although Mr. Mascari stated that the gas had been turned off when he left the store.

A near panic was averted in the lodge rooms of the Knights of Columbus, located on the second floor of the store room, and above the burning room. The lodge room was filled with members, and when smoke began seeping through the cracks, the members made a hurried exit.

It was the general opinion that if the fire had broken out later in the night that many of the store rooms would have been endangered in the block.

Mr. Mascari estimated his loss at between $800 and $900, but the fire department estimate was between $600 and $700. The office room was wrecked, which included an adding machine, check protector, cash register, $200 worth of paper bags and miscellaneous equipment.

He was of the opinion that a lamp cord attached to an electric light socket was the cause of the blaze. He carried $600 insurance on his fixtures and $500 on his stock, and his loss is covered with the insurance.

The building is owned by the heirs of the late George H. Havens, and is damaged slightly, with the wall paper ruined and plastering broken in several places.

When the flames were discovered by people passing the store, an alarm was turned in from box 132, and a second alarm was turned in from box 32. All three companies made a quick run, and the blaze was soon checked.

The flames were first combatted with chemicals, and 100 gallons used from two trucks. The hose wagon laid two lines of hose and the pumpers laid a third line when they had exhausted the chemicals. A small amount of water was thrown into the place, but the interior was badly wrecked and damaged. The loss to the stock was small.

INJUNCTION SUIT TO STOP NEW AUTO LAW

Alleges License Statute is Unconstitutional

AUTO OWNERS PLAINTIFFS

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—An injunction to prevent enforcement of the new automobile license law in Marion county was asked in a suit filed in superior court today.

The suit was filed by a number of plaintiffs, contractors and transfer men, who own a number of automobiles.

Ed Jackson, secretary of state and members of the state automobile police department, the Indianapolis police department and sheriff of Marion county are made defendants.

The suit alleges the law, which greatly increases license rates, is unconstitutional because it covers two unrelated subjects and because it would confiscate private property without due process of law.

FALSE PRETEXTS ARGUED

Orcan Snider Held in Jail on W. E.
Smith's Affidavit

An affidavit has been filed in Justice Steech's court against Orcan Snider by Walter E. Smith, who alleges in his charge that the defendant negotiated a loan of $23 from him in November 1922, and made false statements concerning the ownership of an automobile, upon which he secured the loan.

The defendant has not been arraigned on the charge, and is held in jail, and he will be given a hearing on the charge in a day or so.

ADVISES READING TO BROADEN MEN'S LIVES

H. W. Hargett of St. Paul's Church Speaks To Rotary Club On Books

NEW MEMBER ADDED TO CLUB

The Rev. Henry Hargett, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, spoke to the Rotary club at the weekly luncheon today on the subject, "Books Business Men Ought to Read."

The theme of the address was that one should become thoroughly acquainted with good literature in order to live life to its fullest extent. He drew on the wealth of literature that is available to illustrate how men could broaden their vision and escape the narrowness of life, into which they are apt to fall by following one business or profession continually. Dr. Hargett said that business men should read good literature because it would make them better men and better citizens.

Donald D. Ball, chairman of the On - To - French - Link committee, which has charge of the arrangements for the annual district conference February 21 and 22, reported that the Rushville delegation would go on a special Pennsylvania train with the Indianapolis club. A delegation of 12 or 14 is expected to attend.

Russell B. Kirkpatrick, automobile storage, was introduced as a new member of the club and was welcomed on behalf of the club by Dr. John M. Walker.

Donald Dean, a local Boy Scout troop leader, was the only guest present today.

ADJUSTERS ARRIVE TO SETTLE FIRE LOSS

J. L. Cowing Arrives From Miami, Florida, Being Called Home on Account of Fire

UNCERTAIN ABOUT FUTURE

J. L. Cowing, who arrived home Monday evening from Miami, Florida, where he was spending a few weeks when the J. L. Cowing Son & Co., clothing store burned in the Odd Fellow building fire, said this morning that the members of the company had not decided what the future of the business would be.

Mr. Cowing was to meet the insurance adjusters at noon and adjust the loss on the company's stock of clothing and shoes, which was badly damaged. Some of the stock is being moved to the room formerly occupied by the Loren Meek furniture store, and the remainder will be moved as soon as the adjustment is made.

Mr. Cowing asserted that during his trip home, he had figured up that he had paid $23,000 in insurance premiums during the time he had been in the business, and had never had a loss. The store was revived a few years ago to avoid the danger of fire starting from defective electric wires.

Mr. Cowing stated that Mrs. Cowing, who accompanied him home from Miami, was greatly improved in health and had been benefited by her stay in the south.

FILES EJECTMENT SUIT

A complaint in ejectment has been filed in the circuit court by Minnie Tabbot against Mary Marshall, the complaint being for possession of a 9-acre farm in the northwestern part of the county, and for $50 damages for alleged retention of the land.

THE BATTLE RAGES

LEASE SCANDAL A POLITICAL FIGHT

Swings Around to Open And Unguised Partisan Encounter When Senate Opens Debate

LENROOT ATTACKS CRITICS

Chairman of Senate Lands Committee, in Charge of Probe, Answers Criticism of Coolidge

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 29.—The oil leasing scandal today began to swing rapidly toward an open and undisguised partisan political encounter between Republicans and Democrats when debate in the senate opened.

Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin, regular republican, who is chairman of the senate public lands committee investigating the leasing scandal, delivered a violent attack on critics of President Coolidge.

"The attempt to attach some stigma of blame in this matter to the president of the United States," said Lenroot, "is politics and nothing else. If democratic senators had doubts concerning the legality of these leases—and I know they had—why didn't some of them at any time during the past two years introduce a resolution calling on the president to begin suit to annul the leases?"

Lenroot said he knew Senator Walsh, Montana, had always considered the leases illegal because of lack of power to make them.

"But nobody took any action," said Lenroot.

Lenroot's speech was a direct reply to a bitter political oration delivered late yesterday by Senator Robinson, democratic leader, who said the Teapot Dome scandal would be an issue in the campaign and President Coolidge would be held responsible if he did not fire Denby and Dugberry.

Lenroot in opening his discussion revealed that he went to President Coolidge after Archie Roosevelt had testified and since that time "Mr. Coolidge has taken every possible step to clear up this matter."

The investigating committee refused this morning to accept an invitation to go to Fall's house to question him.

Upon the suggestion of Senator Walsh, it was decided that physicians who had been attending Fall will appear before the committee tomorrow to give an opinion as to when Fall's health will permit him to appear.

Recalls Fire 75 Years Ago On Site of I. O. O. F. Building

Levi Retherford, eighty-nine years of age and one of the oldest citizens in Rushville, clearly recalls the destruction by fire of a building that stood on the site of the Odd Fellow building between 75 and 77 years ago. Mr. Retherford says he was 12 or 14 years old at the time of the fire.

As he recalls it, the building was three stories high and was used as a hotel. It belonged to "Colonel" Posey and was run by him.

If his memory of the fire is correct, it occurred between the years 1847 and 1849. No newspaper files earlier than January, 1853 are available at the county recorder's office, where files are preserved, and the fire could not be confirmed from this source.

It is a matter of record, however, that the Odd Fellow building was erected in 1856 and sold during the Civil War by the lodge.

WIPES OLD CASES OFF THE DOCKET

Judge Sparks Dismisses Criminal Charges Due to Lack of Evidence
And Prosecution

COURT IS IN VACATION

Several Dismissals Due to Defendants Having Been Convicted on Similar Charges

With court in vacation this week, several cases in the criminal court have been taken from the docket, some dismissed by the court for lack of evidence and prosecution, others for duplication of affidavits and still some where the defendants have been tried and convicted on other charges. Most of the cases are of long-standing on the docket.

In the civil suit of Lewis T. Lake against James L. Lake, a suit to set aside a conveyance, venue here from Fayette county several months ago, Judge Robert Murray of the Delaware superior court had assumed jurisdiction as special judge.

Judge John W. Craig of Greensburg has also assumed jurisdiction in the divorce suit of Hazle M. Merritt against Clyde Merritt and evidence on the restraining order has been heard, and the plaintiff granted a restraining order which prevents the defendant from molesting her or their child. He is given the right to see the child, when accompanied by Mrs. Cora Stewart, probation officer.

The criminal cases dismissed from the criminal docket by Judge Sparks are as follows:
The case against John D. Farlow, charged with public intoxication, and another charge against the same defendant charging him with operating an automobile while intoxicated. These cases were dismissed because the defendant has been convicted of a felony in court—having an appeal pending on an arson case.

A charge against Otto Hankins, charging him with maintaining a public nuisance, was taken off the docket for lack of prosecution.

An indictment charging Phillip Nolan with selling drugs without being a registered pharmacist, was dismissed as a bond on a similar charge was forfeited several months ago. Nolan, who was known as "Doc" Nolan, visited the county, it will be recalled, and treated hogs for cholera, and his medicine was said to be worthless.

C. E. Erskin, charged with false pretense, also was released on the charge, as there was not sufficient

REVISED FIGURES ON IMPROVED ROADS MADE

Show There Are 350 Miles in Rush County, Which Will Be Basis For Gas Tax Distribution

5 LESS THAN FIRST FIGURES

Revised figures prepared by Phil Wilk, county auditor, show that there are 350 miles of improved highway in the county, which is the basis for the distribution of the state gasoline tax.

The gasoline tax law provides that the county auditors shall certify to the state auditor, the number of miles of improved highways in their respective counties, as part of the tax is distributed according to these figures.

Mr. Wilk made an exhaustive search of the highway records of the county and a few weeks ago sent a statement to the state auditor to the effect that there were 355 miles of roads in the county that had been improved. He certified the new figures and asked that the others be destroyed.

The revised figures show the mileage to be distributed by townships as follows:

FINDS BAD WIRING IN MANY PLACES

Inspector Simmonds of State Fire Marshal's Office is Making Survey in the City

MORE PROTECTION IS NEEDED

Fires Will be More Numerous in Future and Council is Urged to Take Necessary Steps

More urgent need for additional fire protection is seen daily in the survey of conditions existing in the city by Inspector Simmonds of the state fire marshal's office, who is here making the rounds of business houses and other buildings, as a great portion of wiring in old buildings is now becoming dangerous and a menace as a fire hazard.

Many buildings, as well as dwelling houses have been wired for 20 or 25 years, and in those days the wiring was not installed on standard codes, and are beginning to wear, causing short circuits, and will later develop into fires.

The fire in the Odd Fellow building last Friday demonstrated the worth of the 750 gallon Seagraves pumper which was purchased late in 1921. At that time the administration was severely criticized for buying a piece of fire apparatus that appeared too large for local needs.

In the fire the other morning it again demonstrated that no piece of fire apparatus is too big for a fire, as long as there is a sufficient place to obtain water and a sufficient force of men behind the streams.

The council several weeks ago had planned to purchase a smaller hose truck, to be built on some commercial chassis. This plan was well meant, but with the fire of the other morning it has brought forth the agitation for a standard piece of fire equipment which can stand the most severe test. Another combination hose, chemical and pumper, one to match up with the present outfit, is not regarded as any too good, and even if it is not needed for years, it will be here ready for duty, and it will not be necessary to call for outside help, except in a most severe disaster.

With two pumps, carrying the same amount of hose that is now carried, and with the chemical engine, it would provide protection equal to no other city the size of Rushville. The department is away undermanned. Only six firemen are on the paid list today, and three pieces of apparatus.

A platoon system has been suggested in which the firemen will work two shifts, all subject for call during

DENBY SAYS HE WOULD MAKE THE LEASE AGAIN

Secretary of the Navy is Convinced
That He Did Right Thing In Oil
Reserve Matter

PUBLIC INTERESTS SERVED

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 29.—"I am so convinced that I did the right thing in making the naval leases, I would do it again tomorrow," Secretary Denby declared emphatically after leaving the cabinet meeting at the White House today.

"There is no question whatsoever in my mind that the best interests of the public were served by leases as they were made," Denby continued. "The question involved is so much bigger than any individual that I would advocate making these leases if I knew it would force my removal."

This is the first statement Denby has made since the demand for his resignation was raised and coming as it did directly after leaving the president in the regular cabinet session, it was indicated that the stand the secretary was taking doubtlessly carried the approval of Mr. Coolidge.

"I want to say emphatically that Col. Roosevelt is in no way involved in these leases," the secretary continued.

"I take the fullest responsibility for them myself. I can not say too often that Col. Roosevelt should be free from any suspicion whatsoever."

Scout Notes

The mass meeting last week was attended by nearly one hundred members of the Boy Scout Organization in Rushville. Troop No. 3 had the smallest representation out. The other troops were all well represented. Following the regular custom the meeting opened with the boys giving the Lord's Prayer, the Flag Pledge and the Boy Scout Oath. The Rev. R. W. Sage of the First Baptist church gave a good talk on Preparedness in Boys' Work. Miss Jaehne sang a group of songs. Both the Rev. Sage and Miss Jaehne were well received by the boys. Later the meeting turned to a discussion of Benjamin Franklin whose birthday was celebrated this month. All the troop leaders gave quotations from Poor Richard's Almanac. The early, middle and later life of Franklin was given respectively by Frank Green, Wilbur Insley, and Loren Winkler.

The troop meetings will be held this week on the regular nights. Plans for Anniversary Week should be discussed at all the meetings this week.

Scouts coming into the Rushville organization this week are Sanford and Raymond Polsgrove, of 812 West 3rd street. Sanford has been assigned to Troop No. 5 which meets on Tuesday evenings at 7:00 o'clock. Raymond has been assigned to Troop No. 1 which meets each Tuesday evening at 5:00 o'clock.

There are still a few handbooks and diaries left from the last shipment. These will not be held any longer but will be sold to the first buyers. Telephone orders will not be laid aside.

a fire, would bring the department up to what it should be, and in this manner it would offer more inducements for men to stay on the job; as today it is a hard thing for firemen to remain on the job 24 hours every day in the week, excepting one day which they have off.

The added expense of the fire equipment and such expenses could be met with a small bond issue to extend over a long period of years, and which would not increase the taxes enough for the greatest tax payer to notice. This plan is being considered, and will probably be taken up at the next session of the council.

The present pumper was valued at $13,000 when it was bought, and the contract was cut to $11,500. The last payment on the note amounting to $1,000 comes due July 1, and the fire engine has been paid for without any great strain on the city's finances.

The Bonus and Taxes

A resolution before congress calls for an investigation to determine whether the fight for the Mellon tax plan is not propaganda.

If the contentions of the American Legion are true, there may be some foundation for the charge that selfish interests are at work in an effort to prevent the ex-service men from being rewarded by the government.

The Legion contends that congress can safely reduce taxes to the amount proposed, with reasonable assurance that the government's ordinary expenses can be met, the national debt reduced as provided by law and the long over-due obligation to the veterans provided for without resort either to new taxes or new loans.

If this be true, certainly no good

THIS BRIGHT

Scotiae, Pa.—"I never felt like working, and when I would try to do any work standing on my feet, I would just drag around all day long. At times I would have terrible pains and would be in bed three or four days. I was in this condition about a year when I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers. I had heard different women say it was good for women's troubles, and my aunt thought it would help me as it had helped her. So I took the Vegetable Compound and it brought things right, and I was in good shape before I became a mother again. I believe it helps at birth, too, as with both my other babies I suffered a great deal more than with this one. I thank you a thousand times for the good your medicine has done me.
It has surely made our home a happy one."—Mrs. ROBERT PRICE, Scotiae, via Lockhaven, Pa.

American is going to object to voting a bonus to those who were responsible for turning the tide of battle for the allies when their outlook was black.

And the Legion has some convincing figures. They show, taking the secretary of the treasury's own estimates, that after reducing the national debt by all of the requirements of the sinking fund and other provisions of law, we can have at the end of the present fiscal year, before any adjusted compensation payments are scheduled to begin, a balance of at least 700 million dollars, or nearly twice as much as Secretary Mellon estimates that adjusted compensation will cost for the following three years, or until June 30, 1927—namely, 364 millions.

A highly organized effort has been made to convince the public that taxes can't be reduced and the bonus paid. But the people are fair and the American Legion is entitled to a

A Contrast

The citizen who stands on the street corner, with his hands stuffed down in his pockets, his shoulders stooped and a sneer on his face, is of no value to any community.

He is the fellow who says the fire department doesn't know how to fight a fire, and tells how it ought to be done. But he never lends a hand.

He is the fellow who complains about the ruts in the streets, but he hasn't paid any taxes for years and of course doesn't help keep them in condition.

He is the fellow who finds fault with the public schools and the teachers, but never did anything in his life to improve the schools.

He is the fellow who condemns everything and sees no good in anything.

You all know him and his type.
The sooner he leaves us, the sooner we will be able to move forward.

Contrast him with the citizen who is a booster and may be counted on to help every worthy cause.

This type of citizen pays his debts and his taxes, stands for everything that is for the betterment of the
his enthusiasm for his home town to lag.

He is an asset to any community.
It is men of his class who are responsible for all of the improvements that are made. We owe it to him that we have as good streets as we do, that our school system is as modern as it is and that we live in a place that we can boast of to our friends.

Classify yourself and see which class you belong to, which type you match. If you belong to the former, it's time for rejuvenation. If you belong to the latter, more power to you.

The Hodge - Podge

A kind word, a pleasant smile, a trifling deed of the smallest importance may be the means of brightening up everyone about us. Why not try it once?

There is about one automobile to ev-but they are not all Fords and therefore there are not enough for us all to Folks who are regarded as lucky

One thing to be said in favor of bob-people, better than you, have been in the same fix.

Famous Materlinck Drama

With a beauty accentuated by elaborate setting and with the dignity and splendor of perfect artistry, the William Fox screen version of "Monna Vanna," the famous Maurice Maeterlinck drama, came to the Mystic theatre last night for a two days engagement.

The impression left by this masterpiece of photodramas is unprecedented in the mind of the writer.
Seldom is there seen such dexterity displayed and vision exercised in the film production of a romantic spectacle of the type that the Belgian poet-playwright created.

The theme of the story with its pathos and love elements surrounded by massive settings of a proportion unknown heretofore on the screen leaves the viewer overwhelmed by its magnitude. There is a grace and charm to the telling of the story that reveals in its every minute the spirit of the internationally famous author, Maurice Maeterlinck.
"Monna Vanna" is well worth seeing for it is excellent screen entertainment.

"Thundergate" at Princess

The age-old fight of Chinese reactionaries against the progress of western civilization and the intrigue of an American man and girl to bring about the downfall of the girl's fiance are highlights of the plot of "Thundergate," a stirring drama of Chinese and American life which comes to the Princess theatre a gain today.

The photoplay is based on Sidney Herschel Small's novel, "The Lord of Thundergate." Many critics have acclaimed it the best photoplay of oriental life since "East Is West."
"Thundergate," a First National picture, deals with the striking resemblance of an American to the Chinese lord of Thundergate. Through extraordinary circumstances he is forced to masquerade as the lord and, in the guise of the Chinese, becomes involved in a series of exciting adventures culminating finally in the overthrow of the enemies of civilization and—romance.

Owen Moore enacts a double role, that of an American engineer and the Chinese lord. The remainder of the cast is also made up of popular screen luminaries, including Sylvia Breamer, Tully Marshall, Virginia
Brown Faire, Robert McKim, Richard Cummings and Ynez Seabury.

Speeding Up
Production

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) considers it a major part of its duty to help increase production in every line of activity.

The factories, farms and workshops of the Middle West function more effectively and more regularly because of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products and service.

This means steady employment for labor — low production costs for manufacturers and farmers — more goods at lower prices for everybody.

Petroleum products are basic essentials — they are at the root of industrial prosperity; for petroleum in some form enters into every civilized activity.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) inspired by the will to serve, organized its efforts in the oil business along certain well-defined lines, with the determination to extend production of petroleum products on a vast scale, in the expectation (since fulfilled) of reducing production costs.

The first plank in the Company's platform is an independent directorate, composed of oil men experienced in every phase of the oil business.

The second plank is to lower production costs by utilizing modern science and by employing trained experts to devise new efficiency methods.

This practice has made the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) a leader in the industry.

The third plank is the development of a comprehensive system of distribution. Standard Oil Company (Indiana) petroleum products are delivered to the smallest as well as to the largest consumers with promptness and with dependable regularity.

The fourth plank is to make every product manufactured and sold by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) measure up to the highest standards of quality and be absolutely uniform at all times.

The fifth plank is to keep the price of its products as low as conditions will permit, depending upon a large volume of business to return a satisfactory profit.

This highly specialized organization, committed to maximum service, lends to every other industry, from the manufacture of automobiles to the manufacture of shoes, bricks, buttons, or flour, the facilities to produce faster and cheaper. This is a direct contribution to national prosperity and constitutes a record of achievements of which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud.

HERE'S THE DARK HORSE

Our Laugh Is Comin'

"He who laughs last, laughs best," eh Hittin' 'em, says Side Lights, rather sarcastically. That's right, and you just wait and listen to us laugh last, along about February 22.

Coch Swain says his basketball boys didn't play basketball at all. Connersville newspaper says it was a fight from start to finish. On February 22, when they play over here, the Lions will show the Ikkniks what a fast game looks like, and also show 'em how to play real basketball.

Side Lights also comments with this:

HITTIN' 'EM DIDN'T EVEN COME

Hittin' 'em of the Rushville Republican was conspicuous by his absence. SIDE LIGHTS was assured that he would be on hands sure for the game and had a nice seat picked out for him but he failed to show up. Even the Rushville fans couldn't understand why he didn't come.

And Side Lights adds further that probably Hittin' 'em had a hunch that the Lions' were going to be tamed. Well that wasn't the reason. After a hard tussle all day working on the fire story, it took the run completely out of the scribe, and Hittin' 'em wouldn't be a bit surprised if old Side Lights wasn't about all in himself Saturday night, after the fire in that city.

The Richmond Palladium says: Connersville high school's 35 to 25 victory over Rushville Friday night must have set fire to the town. Connersville's business section was all ablaze after the high school's win.

And then the Press Box in the Kokomo Tribune, has it figured out, also:

SOME RIVALRY

The keenness of the rivalry between some of these southeastern Indiana towns is getting almost unbelievable, and clear out of bounds. Not content with walloping Rushville basketball team 35 to 25 Friday night, the "Ikknik-town" went and pulled a

SEMI-FINALS GO OVERTIME

Alquina Defeats Orange And Fairview Downs Waterloo. Both Being Hard-Fought Battles

The Fairview high school basketball team won the invitational tourney held at Falmouth Saturday, when eight teams competed for honors, and the runner up in the tourney was Alquina, with the final game at night being an 18 to 12 victory for the home team.

Both games in the semi-finals, when Alquina defeated Orange and Fairview won from Waterloo, were overtime games, and most of the games during the day were hard fought.

In the first morning game, Waterloo defeated Gings, 38 to 8. In the second game, Orange eliminated Glenwood, 27 to 6, and in the third game, Alquina won out from Bentonville, 12 to 10.

In the semi-finals, Fairview beat Waterloo, 18 to 16, in an overtime game, and the Alquina team defeated Orange, 16 to 15, in an overtime contest, putting the two winners together for the night game and in which Fairview had the slight advantage, 18 to 12. A preliminary game was played at night, in which the Fairview girls won from the Orange girls, 17 to 15.

Between 400 and 500 people were present for the tourney and Tittsworth and Cook were the officials. The summary for the final game is as follows:

Fairview 18	Alquina 12
Bunyard ----- F	Best -----
McClure ----- F	Grimme ----- Hackleman ----- C	Chance -----
Banks ----- G	Williamson ----- Gwinup ----- G	White ----- Substitutions, Riebeson for Best, Pauley for Williamson. Field goals, Bunyard 3, McClure, 2, Hackleman 2, Grimme 3, Chance. Foul goals, Bunyard, Hackleman 3, Best, Chance 3.

but they won't if the Lions play real basketball.

Richmond tackles Connersville Friday night on the Ikknik floor, and they have received 75 tickets. It ought to be a hard game, and if Connersville was playing their best Friday night against Rushville, it will give us some idea as to what to expect of Richmond.

This Fan Says The Girls Got Real Rough

Dear Hittin' 'em— Everything has two sides. Some other disinterested parties who also saw the Webb-Rushville girls basketball game Saturday night, wish to correct the statement printed in this column that the game was not rough. The one who made that statement must be totally ignorant of girl's rules for the game was one of the roughest that has been played this year. Fouls were committed and not called that would not be tolerated even in a boy's game.

But why this disagreement between Webb and Rushville should spoil the girls' tournament cannot be understood by fans of girls' basketball. Would trouble between two boys' teams ever call off one of their tournaments? Well I guess not. Then let's not leave the girls cheated out of theirs.

ONE WHO SAW THE GAME

It does seem a shame to think that a little affair like the one that happened the other night, should spoil a tourney, just as the girls were making big preparations. However, if a tourney is held, it would be a good idea to leave the girls' teams in charge of girl's coaches, and not in charge of the men principals, and let the girls and their coaches run the games. It looks like baby play to fuss over a game of basketball. Hittin' 'em is for the girls and their tourney.

And Shootin' 'em is pickin' Anderson. Well Hittin' 'em wishes him better luck than he had during the past two seasons in pickin' Anderson.

Lack of Boxing Laws

HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 29—After a boxing contest recently in London between Johnny Sullivan and Bob Jackson an unsatisfactory decision was given and one of the spectators handed the referee a sock. Two other spectators went to the defense of the referee and police were called to stop a general battle that ensued. All the participants went to court and were fined.

One London paper remarked that it was unfortunate, because "boxing is, of all the sports, the least protected against its enemies."

Another "affair" resulted in a bout in which Danny Frush was boxing. Frush, who seems to be up to his old tricks, claimed a foul when he had been hit in the stomach and he went down.

The referee stopped the fight and then made them continue after a physician had said he was not fouled.

FAIRVIEW DEFEATS OPPONENT FROM OHIO

Athletic Club Wins With Ease From New Paris Monday Night And is Never in Danger

RUSHVILLE ROMEOS LOSE

The Fairview Athletic club took on a foreign opponent Monday night at Fairview when they defeated the New Paris, O., independent team by the one sided score of 65 to 21. The Fairview club was never in danger and were leading 32 to 8 at the end of the first half.

In the curtain raiser, which was a thriller from start to finish, the Junior A. C. team nosed out the Rushville Romans, 19 to 18.

In the big game every player on the Fairview team scored points and showed excellent form, with Patton a forward, making 9 baskets.

Fairview 65 New Paris 21 Reynolds ----- F Coblenz Patton ----- F Freed
Peter ----- C Beason
Cook ----- G Onyett
Darnell ----- G McClure
Substitutions, Seales for Reynolds. Field goals, Reynolds 5, Patton 9, Peters 7, Cook 5, Darnell 2, Seales 3, Coblenz 3, Beason 2, Onyett 2. Foul goals, Peters 2, Cook, Beason 3, Onyett 3, McClure.

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

New York—The injury to his hand received recently by Harry Wills will keep him out of the ring for two months and he will be unable to meet Bartley Madden on February 25, according to word received from Hot Springs, where Wills is taking a vacation.

New York—Jack Dempsey, heavy-weight champion, wired an offer to Dan O'Dowd to act as one of his sparring partners on an exhibition tour starting in Raleigh N. C., next Thursday.

Atlanta—The newly created boxing commission was having difficulties today selecting a referee for the Billy Shade-Young Strubling bout here tonight. After an all day session yesterday, it was announced the referee would be announced from the ring.

New York—Wisconsin has accepted tentatively an invitation to send a crew to compete in the Poughkeepsie intercollegiate rowing championship next June, the stewards of the association announced.

Columbus, O.—Cunningham, giant Ohio State center, who gathered 18 points in last night's game with Minnesota, is now leading individual scorer of the western conference. He has registered 66 points. Nykos of Indiana is second with 52.

Pinehurst, N. C.—The seventh annual field trials were under way here today with more than 100 dogs entered.

Frush went down again and claimed another foul. The bout was stopped again while another physician was called. He said that Frush was sick, but that he had not been fouled.

The referee then refused to give a decision. He announced that he would decide the next day, but he didn't.

Of course, complaints were made about this unusual procedure.

The unusual part of these incidents, however, was that no public demand was made that boxing should be stopped because of the bad decision or because of the disorder which followed it.

It shows the difference between the British sports and American sports and possibly it presents one cause while boxing goes on in England and can survive only periodically in the United States.

Instead of asking for government action to stop the sport, British writers urged that boxing be placed upon firm legal ground. So far the best recognition that the game could get in England was a legal opinion that it was not illegal. But it never has been declared legal.

SPORT CHATTER

Chicago—Johnny Layton, St. Louis representative in the three cushion billiard league, established a new record for 50 point matches of tournament play here last night when he defeated Angie Reickhefer 50 to 26 in 26 innings. The former record was Otto Reiset who ran out his string in 29 innings.

Chicago—Howard Jones who recently resigned as football coach at Iowa, may return to the job, it was indicated here by Judge M. J. McKinley, former president of the Chicago Alumni Association of Iowa. Jones is now trying to cancel his contract with Trinity College of Durham N. C., Judge McKinley said.

New York—Signed contracts were received at the office of the Giants from Joe Oeschger, Jimmy O'Connell and Claude Jonard Dean, Young, Menzel, Southworth, Snyder, Barnes and Shimmers have not signed yet.

New York—Commissioner Landis upheld the sale of Pitcher Howard Baldwin to the New York Giants by the former owners of the Newark International League club.

Boston—Application for reinstatement has been received from Charlie Paddock, champion sprinter and his case will be heard before a special committee in Chicago next week, it was announced by William C. Prout, president of the A. A. U.

Pittsburg—Carnegie Tech's football team will open the season September 27, next fall with a game against the University of Dayton at Dayton, Ohio.

Columbus, O.—Ohio State University eagles defeated Minnesota in the last few minutes of play. The score was 33 to 29.

If You Need a Medicine, You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system, the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Eumer's Swamp-Root preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has been so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the Swamp-Root, the success of Dr. Eumer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it faithfully attacks every wish in overacting kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address: Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

President in the senate represented him as feeling that the charges that have been made against members of his cabinet are not yet "sufficient for serious consideration."

One resolution, however, has already been introduced, demanding the resignation of Secretary Denby. Senator Walsh is scheduled to take further direct action against Denby today.

As a consequence, Senator Caraway, for one, is prepared to turn the guns directly upon the White House. Mr. Coolidge was the first vice president to sit with the cabinet. Senator Walsh has called the senate's attention to the Fall letter of June 1922, in which the then secretary mentioning that the oil leases were discussed at cabinet meetings.

"Where was Mr. Coolidge while the cabinet was discussing the legality of the Teapot Dome lease?" Caraway intends to ask.

With the attack shifting from former Secretary of the Interior Fall to Mr. Coolidge and two members of his cabinet—Secretary of the Navy Denby and Attorney General Daugherty—were indications that the administration was preparing to strike back at those critics who are trying to fasten ten responsibility on the Coolidge regime for what happened in the late President Harding's term.

Mr. Coolidge will not at present ask either Denby or Daugherty to resign, despite formal demands in the senate that he do so, it was stated at the White House, after the president had conferred for two hours with a group of senate leaders he summoned last night.

Sinclair Reaffirms Denial

Paris, Jan. 29—Harry F. Sinclair will return to the United States as soon as possible to reply fully to charges of corruption in connection with leases his oil companies have obtained on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, he said in a telegram to Senator Lenroot today.

Sinclair reaffirmed his denial that he ever gave Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior or any other representative of the Harding government any money in consideration for the leases.

"I commend the action of President Coolidge in ordering prosecution of any guilty persons," Sinclair said, "and welcome a judicial determination of these questions."

English Wife's Rights.

MEDALS AWARDED FOR TON LITTERS

Four Gold And One Bronze Presented To Winning Rush County Hog

Representative of Livestock Breeders' Association Points To Accomplishments of Work

Four gold medals and one bronze medal in the Rush County Ton Litter contest were awarded Monday afternoon by J. R. Wiley of Purdue University, representing the Indiana Livestock Breeders' association, which sponsors the Ton Litter Club.

The Rush county hog breeders thus honored were:

Chester Meal, who raised the heaviest ton litter ever raised in Indiana, his thirteen head weighing 3210
pounds.

Charles Phillips, who had twelve head weighing 2190 pounds.

Wilbur Gray, who raised the first ton litter in Indiana this year, his twelve head weighing 2140 pounds.

R. W. Dawson, whose twelve head weighed 2065 pounds.

Allen Blackledge, whose eleven head weighed 1630 pounds.

Mr. Wiley outlined the work done in the Ton Litter Club and pointed out the facts developed by the competition and some of the accomplishments of the work.

"The pure breeds win," said Mr.
Wiley, in commenting on the results of the club work. "There have been 97 ton litters in the state during the last two years and every one was sired by a pure bred boar. Most of the sows were pure bred."

"Pigs in the pure bred litters averaged 214 pounds at six months while the pigs in the grade and mixed litters averaged 199 and 186 pounds respectively at six months."

"Among other things," he continued, "the club work demonstrated the need of sanitation. Men who have produced ton litters have had their sows clean when put in farrowing quarters, washing them with soap and water if necessary. The farrowing quarters have always been clean. The old straw and manure have been removed and the houses disinfected. The sows and pigs have had the run of fresh pasture."

Eight men have enrolled for the Rush county club next year and those who desire to enter are urged to see the county agent before February 15, the closing date for enrollment.

SAYS SPECULATORS OPPOSITION IS ARGUMENT FOR WHEAT POOL

The following editorial by William L. Stahl will appear in the February number of the Hoosier Farmer:

When one of our popular authors wrote his story of "Desert Gold" he wrote the story of the great wheat fields of the west. Today the wheat growers of Indiana are taking their pens in hand to write a new wheat story. Not a story of the wheat in the field, but a story of a new plan of getting the wheat from the fields to the markets. Wheat may grow in the fields and turn golden under the summer suns, but to the wheat grower who cultivates the field and drills the seed the term "golden" means little beyond the signs of ripening grain unless he is able to turn his product into channels from which will flow into his hands the gold that he will be able to use in the ordinary channels of his life.

Farmers of Indiana have seen their wheat fields turn gold year after year; good years of fine yields. Farmers of Indiana also have seen years when severe winters killed the seed in the ground and the part that turned golden was the minority part, and the real gold was scarce. Farmers of Indiana, in many lean years, have seen their product go into the hands of speculators at a price offered by the speculators, and the only gold connected with this operation was the gold that rolled into the speculators' and the food gamblers' coffers and the farmer lived on what he could borrow from a friendly bank and staked his fortunes and his welfare on the crops of the future.

So the farmer of Indiana has determined to write a new chapter in his wheat history. Under the auspices of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation Indiana farmers are attempting to be asked to join in a movement for the co-operative marketing of the state's bread crop. Contracts have been prepared, a campaign of education is under way, and soon the individual wheat grower will be asked to attach his name along the dotted line; he will be asked to decide whether he wishes to continue along the old route, dumping his product as soon as it is harvested; taking what the buyer offers, because there has been no other way, or retain control of his own product through his own organization, sending it to market in an orderly way to meet the demand at the point of demand, and thus harvesting something to say about the price that he is to receive for it.

Ordinarily one would say that the decision would be an easy matter.
Ordinarily, it would be. But this is not an ordinary occasion. The enemies of co-operative marketing are abroad and their campaign is a subtle campaign. It is a campaign of manipulation of figures; of innuendo; of deceit, and before the campaign is ended, perhaps, there will enter into it plain lying. Influences are at work on the subrosa order.
The farmer is hearing persons whisper into his ear that he be cautious.

By FRED BELL

I deem it my duty as chairman of the Rush County Farm Bureau when an individual or organization takes a decided stand against what we think is to our best interests and think I should let the people I am trying to represent know the facts.

I refer at this time to a piece which appeared in the Republican Saturday, Jan. 19th under the heading "Arlington Man Is Re-Elected", which also was published by our State paper. You will notice a resolution was passed by the Grain Dealers' Ass'n, condemning the principle of co-operative marketing in so far as it concerns the Indiana wheat crop and affirmed the belief that cooperative marketing of wheat was not based on sound, economic principles, and was not to the best advantage of the farmers.

I wish to say that I know the present plan adopted by the Indiana Farm Bureau has not been decided on hastily but on the contrary, after thoroughly going over the entire situation and going into every failure that has been made along this line, so as to find why the failure was made, and comparing wheat to every known farm commodity which is today being sold in a co-operative way by the pooling system which is proving such a success where ever properly managed. This plan has been adopted after the very best experts on co-operative marketing, together with some of the best brains that the grain farmers and grain farmers only, representing the grain farmers from each district.

I ask you the question. Which do you think, that a body of men such as I know to have ratified this plan of the Grain Dealers Ass'n have closest to their heart the "best advantage of the farmers?"

W. B. Myers of Chicago, editor, as given in the same issue, came to Severin Hotel on Dec. 18th by the wheat conference held at the Indiana Farm Bureau, not only was he not asked but was not wanted, as was shown there that day by the representatives of the grain farmers of this state and he did get a very cool reception. At that meeting this man Myers passed himself off as a farmer, and I wish to say that it was necessary at this conference to pass a slip of paper around and require each man to sign name, address, and occupation as they knew the enemy was there. Now this same man Myers appear at the Grain Dealers Conference and tells them the "farmers who sold their wheat in a pool last year got less for it, than the farmers who sold independently." In some instances they furnish figures which are correct, I understand, but misleading as the prices taken on pool wheat was under the most adverse circumstances while the prices used by the old line firms were under the very best, which is not a fair comparison.

Prof. James E. Boyle of Cornell University, who spoke at the final session of the Grain Dealers convention takes a slap at the Pool, as he states from his "detached standpoint", and I would think it was from a professor in Cornell to a grain farmers' standpoint, points out the crude methods and sites you to the Farmers Alliance, who tried a similar move in 1891 and failed. I agree with him, we wheat farmers in Indiana admit we have always with few exceptions, been failures and while we could point to failures in every line of business, we have come to the conclusion that if we are not always to be failures, we must do something for ourselves. That something today with the farmer is cooperative marketing on a commodity basis and under the pooling system.

In explanation of what appeared in the Republican Jan. 21st under heading "Are Opposed to Pool Plan," where Mr. Hutchinson said,
"What the resolution condemned was the so-called Sapiro wheat pool plan which binds the farmers in a five year contract." Men who have studied cooperative marketing realize the importance of the five or ten year contract as they know you must have control of the commodity in order to have some say in the price.
Under a yearly contract it would be much harder to control if you could control at all.

I am very much surprised at Mr.
Hutchinson's statement in regard to Rush county grain crop handled in 1923 or less than 5 cents gross margin as compared to the wheat pool

INTEREST GROWS IN SHORT COURSE

Hancock, Henry, And Rush, Make

AT KNIGHTSTOWN FEB. 12-14

Short Course is Something That Has Been Asked For By Outstanding Men
And Women of The Community

Some fifty outstanding men and women of the three counties, Hancock, Henry and Rush, are busily engaged in making thorough preparations for the big short course which will be held Feb. 12 and 14. Knights-town has been chosen as the place in which to hold it since a very large crowd will likely have to be cared for comfortably. This can be done nicely between the big school gymnasium and the theatre. Special arrangements will be made so that at
time and at reasonable cost.

This short course is not something that has been thrust upon the community by Purdue but it is something that has been asked for by understanding men and women of the community. For fifteen years these short courses have been given in this state. Their worth is beyond question. They are one of the very best of the services rendered to the people of Indiana, by the Extension Department of Purdue University.

Dependable information, given by dependable instructors, may be looked for. No one need hesitate about attending lest there should be little useful information given. From the first period of the short course to the last the work is important, valuable, practical, interesting. The short course is not put on by the members of any organization just for organization members but is put on by some of the best farmers and business men for everyone interested in agriculture regardless altogether whether or not they belong to any organization.

FARM BUSINESS PURDUE COURSE

Purdue Man Explains How Grandfathers Became Wealthy Land

W. V. Kell Pointed Out Difference Between Period of Rising Land Values And Present Conditions

How our grandfathers became wealthy land-owners without the use of account books was explained by Walter V. Kell of the Farm Management Department of Purdue University to the farmers attending the Annual Short Course there recently.

Mr. Kell explained as follows:
"Until recently the land owner who could make a living for his family and pay his farm expenses was considered financially successful because his low-priced land gradually became more valuable until his estate was worth several thousands of dollars."

He pointed out the difference between that period of rising land values and the present conditions.
"When land values remain fairly constant as they are now," he said,
"the only means of attaining financial success is through the earnings of the farm business. In order to make any business successful it is necessary to know it thoroughly and successful men in all business recognize the importance of detailed records. That is why we find nearly all of the most successful farmers using account books."

Mr. Kell then described the methods used by most farmers in keeping their accounts. A farm record book has been prepared each year for some time by the Farm Management Department at Purdue and it is designed to meet the needs of the farmer. It provides for a simple statement of farm receipts and expenses together with an inventory of livestock feeds and supplies and machinery and equipment that is on hand at the beginning and end of the year.

"The book may be summarized," said Mr. Kell, "and the results of the year's business may be seen at a glance." In pointing out the use of the work he showed how it could be used in planning the next year's business. A study of the expense accounts may show places where the cost of production may be lowered and the sales of products show where

SELL AT THE LOWEST PRICES

Every store has certain fixed overhead expenses that must be met each week. The merchant who sells only a small amount of goods must sell at a higher price than the one that sells a large amount of goods in order to meet these expenses.

Volume of business is the thing that determines how low goods may be sold and still leave a living profit for the seller

taking a margin of from 14 cents to 18 cents according to actual statistics. Don't be fooled. I am rather inclined to admit his statement as to Rush county, on less than 5 cents is correct, but he did not give you the impression that it is altogether two different things, while the Rush county price must be the difference in what the elevator men paid and received net, while the pool price included all this and then some.

The Oklahoma pool price differential was 14.6 per bushel, distributed as follows: local elevator charge 4.5 cents which should be your comparison with Rush county 2 cents per bushel made by Association overhead charge and included office maintenance, such as salaries of Sales, Traffic and Auditing Department heads, clerks, and stenographers printing and stationary telephone and telegrams, rent, equipment, etc. This leaves 8 cents per bushel which represents all terminal charges and according to public accountants is a productive cost, that is, it enhances the value of the wheat and includes loading and unloading, mixing, conditioning cleaning, weighing, inspection, storage and insurance.

This pool was carried in storage for an average of 5 months carrying an average of 5 months carrying cost averaging 1 1/2 cents per bushel per month.

The Federal Trade Commission recently published some data on the grain trade business, which I presume is good authority on this subject. Their last report on the grain trade, designed as volume 4, shows the spread on wheat, between producer and converter by old line methods, was 18.89c. The Oklahoma wheat growers association cost 14.6c making a difference of 4 1/2c per bushel in favor of marketing wheat under the cooperative plan with a very small percent of their wheat under contract. What could be the effect with 90 percent under contract, such as the tobacco crop is today?

I wish to say in conclusion as I see it, we have no fight on hand with the elevator man, we need him and he needs us, and personally I know some houses controlled in Rush county are friendly to a move of this kind. On the other hand we realize the elevator man is as helpless in the wheat market as the individual farmer, but we do realize we will have a big fight on hand with the higher ups in the grain trade as there is no place for them in this kind of a marketing machine.

He is being told that while it is a perfectly simple and logical proposition to market every other product under the sun co-operatively, it just cannot be done in the case of wheat.

The same influences said the same thing when the great cooperatives of the cotton fields of the south began to organize, only then they said it was perfectly simple and logical co-operatively to market every product under the sun except cotton. And when the tobacco men of the middle south and of the middle north turned to co-operative marketing, they heard the same thing; that everything under the sun could be co-operatively marketed except tobacco.

Indiana wheat farmers know that these influences were unsound influences, intended to mislead; that they were selfish influences, involving selfish interests. They have only to read the history of the great cotton and tobacco co-operatives to know that these influences were not honest. The cotton co-operatives and tobacco co-operatives are going concerns. Their records speak for themselves; they are so open that all who run may read, so there is no need for discussing those records here. Why, then, shall the wheat grower be misled by the statement that anything in the world can be marketed co-operatively but wheat? There is no logical reason. Who is backing the wheat pool in Indiana? It is the grain dealers? Is it the speculator on the Boards of Trade?

FIRE DOES DAMAGE IN A FRUIT STORE

Another Business Block Threatened When Havens Room Breaks Out
in Flames

Blaze Starts in Enclosed Office in
Mascari, Owner $700

Another business block was threatened by fire Monday night about 8:30 o'clock when the fruit and commission house of M. J. Mascari, 121 West Second street, was damaged to the extent of $700 and the early discovery of the blaze prevented a serious loss.

This business house is located a few doors west of the Odd Fellows building which was destroyed by fire early Friday morning. The blaze was the third serious loss in the business district within ten days, and the fire last night was the thirteenth for January and also the new year.

The fire started in the enclosed office room about the middle of the large room, and was all in flames when discovered. An overheated gas radiator left in the office was said by firemen to have caused the blaze, although Mr. Mascari stated that the gas had been turned off when he left the store.

A near panic was averted in the lodge rooms of the Knights of Columbus, located on the second floor of the store room, and above the burning room. The lodge room was filled with members, and when smoke began seeping through the cracks, the members made a hurried exit.

It was the general opinion that if the fire had broken out later in the night that many of the store rooms would have been endangered in the block.

Mr. Mascari estimated his loss at between $800 and $900, but the fire department estimate was between $600 and $700. The office room was wrecked, which included an adding machine, check protector, cash register, $200 worth of paper bags and miscellaneous equipment.

He was of the opinion that a lamp cord attached to an electric light socket was the cause of the blaze. He carried $600 insurance on his fixtures and $500 on his stock, and his loss is covered with the insurance.

The building is owned by the heirs of the late George H. Havens, and is damaged slightly, with the wall paper, ruined and plastering broken in several places.

When the flames were discovered by people passing the store, an alarm was turned in from box 132, and a second alarm was turned in from box 32. All three companies made a quick run, and the blaze was soon checked.

The flames were first combatted with chemicals, and 100 gallons used from two trucks. The hose wagon laid two lines of hose and the pumpers had a third line when they had exhausted the chemicals. A small amount of water was thrown into the place, but the interior was badly wrecked and damaged. The loss to the stock was small.

INJUNCTION SUIT TO STOP NEW AUTO LAW

constitutional

AUTO OWNERS PLAINTIFFS

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—An injunction to prevent enforcement of the new automobile license law in Marion county was asked in a suit filed in superior court today.

The suit was filed by a number of plaintiffs, contractors and transfer men, who own a number of automobiles.

Ed Jackson, secretary of state and members of the state automobile police department, the Indianapolis police department and sheriff of Marion county are made defendants.

The suit alleges the law, which greatly increases license rates, is unconstitutional because it covers two unrelated subjects and because it would confiscate private property without due process of law.

FALSE PRETENSE CHARGED

Ocean Snider Held in Jail on W. E.
Smith's Affidavit

An affidavit has been filed in Justice Stech's court against Ocean Snider by Walter E. Smith, who alleges in his charge that the defendant negotiated a loan of $23 from him in November 1922, and made false statements concerning the ownership of an automobile, upon which he secured the loan.

The defendant has not been arraigned on the charge, and is held in jail, and he will be given a hearing on the charge in a day or so.

H. W. Hargett of St. Paul's Church

NEW MEMBER ADDED TO CLUB

The Rev. Henry Hargett, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, spoke to the Rotary club at the weekly luncheon today on the subject, "Books Business Men Ought to Read."

The theme of the address was that one should become thoroughly acquainted with good literature in order to live life to its fullest extent. He drew on the wealth of literature that is available to illustrate how men could broaden their vision and escape the narrowness of life, into which they are apt to fall by following one business or profession continually. Dr. Hargett said that business men should read good literature because it would make them better men and better citizens.

Donald D. Ball, chairman of the On - To - French - Lick committee, which has charge of the arrangements for the annual district conference February 21 and 22, reported that the Rushville delegation would go on a special Pennsylvania train with the Indianapolis club. A delegation of 12 or 14 is expected to attend.

Russell B. Kirkpatrick, automobile storage, was introduced as a new member of the club and was welcomed on behalf of the club by Dr. John M. Walker.

Donald Dean, a local Boy Scout troop leader, was the only guest present today.

ADJUSTERS ARRIVE TO SETTLE FIRE LOSS

J. L. Cowing Arrives From Miami,

UNCERTAIN ABOUT FUTURE

J. L. Cowing, who arrived home Monday evening from Miami, Florida, where he was spending a few weeks when the J. L. Cowing Son & Co., clothing store burned in the Odd Fellow building fire, said this morning that the members of the company had not decided what the future of the business would be.

Mr. Cowing was to meet the insurance adjusters at noon and adjust the loss on the company's stock of clothing and shoes, which was badly damaged. Some of the stock is being moved to the room formerly occupied by the Loren Meek furniture store, and the remainder will be moved as soon as the adjustment is made.

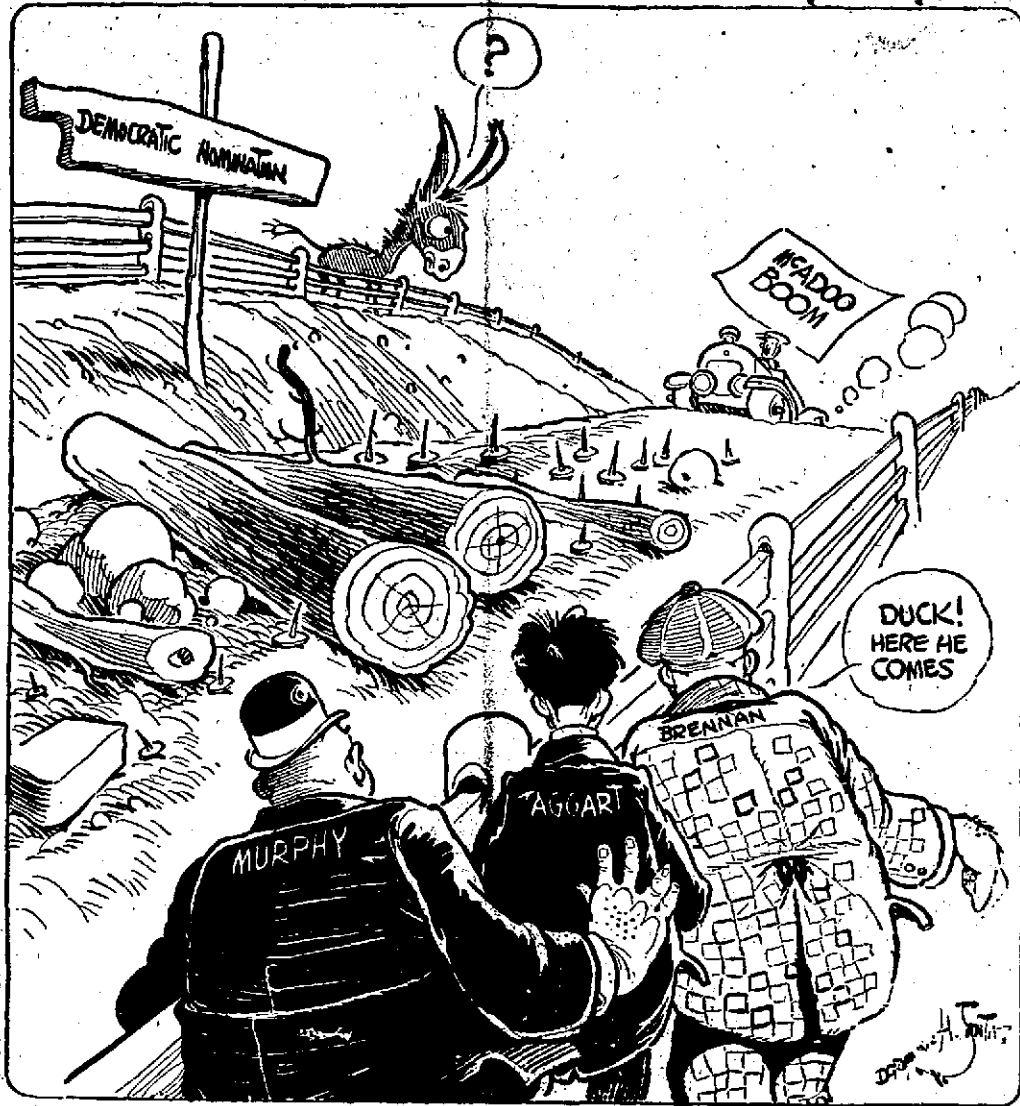

Mr. Cowing asserted that during his trip home, he had figured up that he had paid $23,000 in insurance premiums during the time he had been in the business, and had never had a loss. The store was rewired a few years ago to avoid the danger of fire starting from defective electric wires.

Mr. Cowing stated that Mrs. Cowing, who accompanied him home from Miami, was greatly improved in health and had been benefited by her stay in the south.

Senate Opens Debate

LENROOT ATTACKS CRITICS

Chairman of Senate Lands Commit-

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 29.—The oil leasing scandal today began to swing rapidly toward an open and undisguised partisan political encounter between Republicans and Democrats when debate in the senate opened.

Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin, regular republican, who is chairman of the senate public lands committee investigating the leasing scandal, delivered a violent attack on critics of President Coolidge.

"The attempt to attach some stigma of blame in this matter to the president of the United States," said Lenroot, "is politics and nothing else. If democratic senators had doubts concerning the legality of these leases—and I know they had—why didn't some of them at any time during the past two years introduce a resolution calling on the president to begin suit to annul the leases?"

Lenroot said he knew Senator Walsh, Montana, had always considered the leases illegal because of lack of power to make them.

"But nobody took any action," said Lenroot.

Lenroot's speech was a direct reply to a bitter political oration delivered late yesterday by Senator Robinson, democratic leader, who said the Teapot Dome scandal would be an issue in the campaign and President Coolidge would be held responsible if he did not fire Denby and Daugherty.

Lenroot in opening his discussion revealed that he went to President Coolidge after Archie Roosevelt had testified and since that time "Mr. Coolidge has taken every possible step to clear up this matter."

The investigating committee refused this morning to accept an invitation to go to Fall's house to question him.

Upon the suggestion of Senator Walsh, it was decided that physicians who had been attending Fall will appear before the committee tomorrow to give an opinion as to when Fall's health will permit him to appear.

Recalls Fire 75 Years Ago On Site of I. O. O. F. Building

Levi Retherford, eighty-nine years of age and one of the oldest citizens in Rushville, clearly recalls the destruction by fire of a building that stood on the site of the Odd Fellow building between 75 and 77 years ago. Mr. Retherford says he was 12 or 14 years old at the time of the fire.

As he recalls it, the building was three stories high and was used as a hotel. It belonged to "Colonel" Posey and was run by him.

If his memory of the fire is correct, it occurred between the years 1847 and 1849. No newspaper files earlier than January, 1853 are available at the county recorder's office, where files are preserved, and the fire could not be confirmed from this source.

It is a matter of record, however, that the Odd Fellow building was erected in 1856 and sold during the Civil War by the lodge.

WIPES OLD CASES OFF THE DOCKET

Charges Due to Lack of Evidence

COURT IS IN VACATION

Similar Charges

With court in vacation this week, several cases in the criminal court have been taken from the docket, some dismissed by the court for lack of evidence and prosecution, others for duplication of affidavits and still some where the defendants have been tried and convicted on other charges. Most of the cases are of long standing on the docket.

In the civil suit of Lewis T. Lake against James L. Lake, a suit to set aside a conveyance, venue here from Fayette county several months ago, Judge Robert Murray of the Delaware superior court had assumed jurisdiction as special judge.

Judge John W. Craig of Greensburg has also assumed jurisdiction in the divorce suit of Hazel M. Merritt against Clyde Merritt and evidence on the restraining order has been heard, and the plaintiff granted a restraining order which prevents the defendant from molesting her or their child. He is given the right to see the child, when accompanied by Mrs. Corp. Stewart, probation officer.

The criminal cases dismissed from the criminal docket by Judge Sparks are as follows:

The case against John D. Farlow, charged with public intoxication, and another charge against the same defendant charging him with operating an automobile while intoxicated. These cases were dismissed because the defendant has been convicted of a felony in court—having an appeal pending on an arson case.

An indictment charging Philip Nolan with selling drugs without being a registered pharmacist, was dismissed as a bond on a similar charge was forfeited several months ago. Nolan, who was known as "Doc" Nolan, visited the county, it will be recalled, and treated hogs for cholera, and his medicine was said to be worthless.

C. E. Erskin, charged with false pretense, also was released on the charge, as there was not sufficient

The body will be brought to this city for burial Wednesday morning. Short funeral services will be held at the East Hill cemetery about eleven o'clock, the time scheduled for the funeral cortege to arrive here.

TERM OPENS NEXT WEEK

In preparation for the new term of court which convenes next Monday, the jury commissioners have drawn the members who will be used as regular panel talesmen when they are needed in the February term.

The twelve men, whose names were drawn for the petit jury, are as follows: Frank Logan, Union township; Edgar Morris, Noble; Amos L. Hill, Riley; Jerry Brown, Posey; Clifford P. Brown, Center; Vernie Hite, Richland; John J. Frazier, Anderson; Charlie Holden, Orange; Eli Martin, Washington; Ben F. Purcell, Walker; John H. Wright, Rushville; James E. Gatewood, Jackson.

The six men drawn for the grand jury are Raymond Bowles, Center township; Elmer Dalrymple, Washington; R. O. Veach, Walker; J. N. Northam, Jackson; Elwood Kirkwood, Union and Adam Richey, Orange.

REVISED FIGURES ON IMPROVED ROADS MADE

County, Which Will be Basis For

5 LESS THAN FIRST FIGURES

Revised figures prepared by Ph' Wilk, county auditor, show that there are 350 miles of improved highway in the county, which is the basis for the distribution of the state gasoline tax.

The gasoline tax law provides that the county auditors shall certify to the state auditor, the number of miles of improved highways in their respective counties, as part of the tax is distributed according to these figures.

Mr. Wilk made an exhaustive search of the highway records of the county and a few weeks ago sent a statement to the state auditor to the effect that there were 355 miles of roads in the county that had been improved. He certified the new figure and asked that the others be destroyed.

The revised figures show the mileage to be distributed by townships as follows:

FINDS BAD WIRING IN MANY PLACES

Inspector Simmonds of State Fire
Marshal's Office is Making Survey
in the City

MORE PROTECTION IS NEEDED

Fires Will be More Numerous in Future and Council is Urged to Take Necessary Steps

More urgent need for additional fire protection is seen daily in the survey of conditions existing in the city by Inspector Simmonds of the state fire marshal's office, who is here making the rounds of business houses and other buildings, as a great portion of wiring in old buildings is now becoming dangerous and a menace as a fire hazard.

Many buildings, as well as dwelling houses have been wired for 20 or 25 years, and in those days the wiring was not installed on standard codes, and are beginning to wear, causing short circuits, and will later develop into fires.

The fire in the Odd Fellow building last Friday demonstrated the worth of the 750 gallon Seagraves pumper which was purchased late in 1921. At that time the administration was severely criticized for buying a piece of fire apparatus that appeared too large for local needs.

In the fire the other morning it again demonstrated that no piece of fire apparatus is too big for a fire, as long as there is a sufficient force to obtain water and a sufficient force of men behind the streams.

The council several weeks ago had planned to purchase a smaller hose truck, to be built on some commercial chassis. This plan was well meant, but with the fire of the other morning it has brought forth the agitation for a standard piece of fire equipment which can stand the most severe test. Another combination hose, chemical and pumper, one to match up with the present outfit, is not regarded as any too good, and even if it is not needed for years, it will be here ready for duty, and it will not be necessary to call for outside help, except in a most severe disaster.

With two pumps, carrying the same amount of hose that is now carried, and with the chemical engine, it would provide protection equal to no other city the size of Rushville. The department is away undermanned. Only six firemen are on the paid list today, and three pieces of apparatus.

A platoon system has been suggested in which the firemen will work two shifts, all subject for call during

DENBY SAYS HE WOULD MAKE THE LEASE AGAIN

Secretary of the Navy is Convinced

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 29.—"I am so convinced that I did the right thing in making the naval leases, I would do it again tomorrow," Secretary Denby declared emphatically after leaving the cabinet meeting at the White House today.

"There is no question whatsoever in my mind that the best interests of the public were served by leases as they were made," Denby continued. "The question involved is so much bigger than any individual that I would advocate making these leases as if I knew it would force my removal."

This is the first statement Denby has made since the demand for his resignation was raised and coming as it did directly after leaving the president in the regular cabinet session, it was indicated that the stand the secretary was taking doubtlessly carried the approval of Mr. Coolidge.

"I want to say emphatically that Col. Roosevelt is in no way involved in these leases," the secretary continued.

"I take the fullest responsibility for them myself. I can not say too often that Col. Roosevelt should be free from any suspicion whatsoever."

Scout Notes

The mass meeting last week was attended by nearly one hundred members of the Boy Scout Organization in Rushville. Troop No. 3 had the smallest representation out. The other troops were all well represented. Following the regular custom the meeting opened with the boys giving the Lord's Prayer, the Flag Pledge and the Boy Scout Oath. The Rev. R. W. Sage of the First Baptist church gave a good talk on Preparedness in Boys' Work. Miss Jaehne sang a group of songs. Both the Rev. Sage and Miss Jaehne were well received by the boys. Later the meeting turned to a discussion of Benjamin Franklin whose birthday was celebrated this month. All the troop leaders gave quotations from Poor Richard's Almanac. The early, middle and later life of Franklin was given respectively by Frank Green, Wilbur Insley, and Loren Winkler.

a fire, would bring the department up to what it should be, and in this manner it would offer more inducements for men to stay on the job; as today it is a hard thing for firemen to remain on the job 24 hours every day in the week, excepting one day which they have off.

The added expense of the fire equipment and such expenses could be met with a small bond issue to extend over a long period of years, and which would not increase the taxes enough for the greatest tax payer to notice. This plan is being considered, and will probably be taken up at the next session of the council.

The present pump was valued at $13,000 when it was bought, and the contract was cut to $11,500. The last payment on the note amounting to $1,000 comes due July 1, and the fire engine has been paid for without any great strain on the city's finances.

The Bonus and Taxes

for an investigation to determine whether the fight for the Mellon tax plan is not propaganda.If the contentions of the American Legion are true, there may be some
prevent the ex-service men from being rewarded by the government.The Legion contends that congress can safely reduce taxes to the
amount proposed, with reasonable assurance that the government's ordinary expenses can be met, the national debt reduced as provided by
to the veterans provided for without resort either to new taxes or new
loans.

If this be true, certainly no good

helped her. So I took the Vegetable

Moved Account Fire

I now have my office over the Farmers Trust Company
North Main Street
R. F. ScudderAmerican is going to object to voting a bonus to those who were responsible for turning the tide of battle for
the allies when their outlook was black.And the Legion has some convincing figures. They show, taking the secretary of the treasury's own estimates, that after reducing the national debt by all of the requirements
of the sinking fund and other provisions of law, we can have at the end of the present fiscal year, before any adjusted compensation
payments are scheduled to begin, a balance of at least 700 million dollars, or nearly twice as much as Secretary Mellon estimates that adjusted compensation will cost for the fol-
1927—namely, 364 millions.A highly organized effort has been made to convince the public that
taxes can't be reduced and the bonus paid. But the people are fair and the American Legion is entitled to a

A Contrast

street corner, with his hands stuffed
down in his pockets, his shoulders
stooped and a sneer on his face, is of no value to any community.He is the fellow who says the fire department doesn't know how to fight a fire, and tells how it ought to be done. But he never lends a hand.He is the fellow who complains about the rats in the streets, but he
of course doesn't help keep them in control.He is the fellow who finds fault with the public schools and the teachers, but never did anything in his life to improve the schools.He is the fellow who condemns everything and sees no good in anything.You all know him and his type.
The sooner he leaves us, the sooner we will be able to move forward.Contrast him with the citizen who is a booster and may be counted on to help every worthy cause.This type of citizen pays his debts and his taxes, stands for everything
that is for the betterment of the
his enthusiasm for his home town to lag.He is an asset to any community.
It is men of his class who are responsible for all of the improvements
that are made. We owe it to him that we have as good streets as we do,
that our school system is as modern
as it is and that we live in a place
match. If you belong to the former,
it's time for rejuvenation. If you belong to the latter, more power to you.The Hodge-Podge

Famous Maeterlinck Drama

With a beauty accentuated by elaborate setting and with the dignity
and splendor of perfect artistry, the William Fox screen version of "Monna Vanna," the famous Maurice Maeterlinck drama, came to the Mystic theatre last night for a two days engagement.The impression left by this masterpiece of photodramas is unprecedented in the mind of the writer.
Seldom is there seen such dexterity
film production of a romantic spectacle of the type that the Belgian poet-playwright created.The theme of the story with its pathos and love elements surrounded by massive settings of a proportion unknown heretofore on the screen leaves the viewer overwhelmed by its magnitude. There is a grace and charm to the telling of the
story that reveals in its every minute
the spirit of the internationally famous author. Maurice Maeterlinck:
"Monna Vanna" is well worth seeing
ment.

"Thundergate" at Princess

The age-old fight of Chinese re-
actionaries against the progress of
of an American man and girl to
bring about the downfall of the
girl's fiance are highlights of the plot of "Thundergate," a stirring drama
of Chinese and American life which comes to the Princess theatre a gain today.The photoplay is based on Sidney Herschel Small's novel, "The Lord of Thundergate." Many critics have acclaimed it the best photoplay of
oriental life since "East Is West."
"Thundergate," a First National
picture, deals with the striking re-
Chinese lord of Thundergate. Through extraordinary circumstances he is forced to masquerade as the lord and, in the guise of the Chinese, becomes involved in a series of exciting adventures culminating finally in the overthrow of the enemies of civilization and—romance.Owen Moore enacts a double role, that of an American engineer and
the Chinese lord. The remainder of the cast is also made up of popular
Breamer, Tully Marshall, Virginia
Brown Faire, Robert McKim, Rich-

ProductionThe Standard Oil Company (Indiana) considers it a major part of its duty to help increase production in every line of activity.The factories, farms and workshops of the Middle West function more effectively and more regularly
because of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products and service.This means steady employment for labor—low production costs for manufacturers and farmers—more goods at lower prices for everybody.Petroleum products are basic essentials—they are at the root of industrial prosperity; for petroleum in some form enters into every civilized activity.The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) inspired by the will to serve, organized its efforts in the oil business along certain well-defined lines, with the
determination to extend production of petroleum products on a vast scale, in the expectation (since fulfilled) of reducing production costs.The first plank in the Company's platform is an independent directorate, composed of oil men experienced in every phase of the oil business.The second plank is to lower production costs by utilizing modern science and by employing trained experts to devise new efficiency methods.This practice has made the Standard Oil Company

READY FOR WORD "GO"

WEBB AND MILROY WIN
SATURDAY NIGHT GAMES

HITTING 'EM AND MISSING 'EM

HERE'S THE DARK HORSE

Our Laugh Is Comin'

"He who laughs last, laughs best," says Side Lights, rather sarcastically. That's right, and you just wait and listen to us laugh last, along about February 22.

Coch Swain says his basketball boys didn't play basketball at all. Connersville newspaper says it was a fight from start to finish. On February 22, when they play over here, the Lions will show the ifmiks what a fast game looks like, and also show 'em how to play real basketball.

HITTING 'EM DIDN'T EVEN COME

Hitting 'em of the Rushville Republican was conspicuous by his absence. SIDE LIGHTS was assured that he would be on hands sure for the game and had a nice seat picked out for him but he failed to show up. Even the Rushville fans couldn't understand why he didn't come.

And Side Lights adds further that probably Hitting 'em had a hunch that the Lions were going to be tamed. Well that wasn't the reason. After a hard tussle all day working on the five-story, it took the run completely out of the scribe, and Hitting 'em wouldn't be a bit surprised if old Side Lights wasn't about all in himself Saturday night, after the fire in that city.

The Richmond Palladium says: Connersville high school's 35 to 25 victory over Rushville Friday night must have set fire to the town. Connersville's business section was all ablaze after the high school's win.

And then the Press Box in the Kokomo Tribune, has it figured out, also:

SOME RIVALRY

The keenness of the rivalry between some of these southeastern Indiana towns is getting almost unbelievable, and clear out of bounds. Not content with waiting Rushville basketball team 35 to 25 Friday night, the "Ik-mik-town" went and pulled a $500,000 fire just to outshadow the recent $160,000 blaze that the "Rearin' Lion" burg had.

NEWCASTLE HITS IT RIGHT

Markin' 'em up also gives us the benefit for an alibi:

Rushville had too much excitement at the fire yesterday to ever win a game from Connersville.

WIDE OPEN, ALRIGHT

(George, of Vincennes)

"Anderson Shall Not Pass"

was our headline of last night. Somebody forgot and left the gate open and the keys on the outside. For next Friday we are seriously thinking of having our headline: "Welcome Franklin" and it certainly cannot hurt any.

And Twenty Points Better Than Columbus

Watchin' and Guessin' of Columbus bursts out with this:

At last the question agitating the state (or rather part of it) 'can Rushville beat Connersville' is apparently settled. Ten points should be final enough to settle all doubts in the minds of even Hitting 'em and Guardin' 'em, well known Rushville publicity agents.

Frankfort plays at Columbus Friday night. Bobby can chalk up victory number 16.

"Arbuckle is the backbone of the Rushville Colts," says Hoosier Courtship in the Richmond Palladium, who says further, "His floor work and basket shooting kept his team in the running. The Colts are accustomed to shooting on glass backboards at their own gym." And Hitting 'em might add also that Arbuckle will be a good backbone for the varsity squad next season.

Short Passes of Shelbyville, usually ten below zero against Rushville, let us off mildly with the Connersville defeat, and said only this:

By the way, the Rushville team hounds were defeated last night by Connersville high at Connersville. The score was 35 to 25.

'Twas a sad home coming for the Rushville hundreds who went over to Connersville through the cold hoping and expecting victory.

The Rushville second team needs a little training on the basket. They took 69 shots at it against the Richmond team, while Richmond won the game by taking 44 shots. It's the shots that go in, that count.

How about improving the lighting system in the Graham Annex gym. Its getting to a point that good teams won't play here in the small gymnasium, and if the lights are poor, it will be still more serious to get games.

The schedule makers have about arranged the card for next year. Some weak teams in the list, and some good ones. Why not get a real good schedule once, and make the Lions fight every game. It's the only way to get any place. The schedule next year opens with a game here with Hopewell. Two games are scheduled with Spiceland and Hagerstown one with Newcastle, two with Connersville, one with Richmond, one with Columbus, one and possibly two with Shelbyville. The only county team booked for next year is with Carthage, with two games. Greenfield has been dropped, and possibly Greensburg. Brownsburg wants a game. Garfield of Terre Haute will come here again. Why not get one or two of the Indianapolis teams, and book a game with Frankfort, Muncie and the big fellows?

The policy adopted by Richmond is a good one. They play only one team during the season, and in this way they can cover so much territory, taking in 20 teams in the season.

Greensburg is bringing a flock of rooters with 'em Thursday night, and they are coming prepared to take back the victory. Maybe they will.

OVERTIME GAMES FEATURE TOURNEY

SEMI-FINALS GO OVERTIME

Alquina Defeats Orange And Fairview Downs Waterloo, Both Being Hard-Fought Battles

The Fairview high school basketball team won the invitational tourney held at Falmouth Saturday, when eight teams competed for honors, and the runner up in the tourney was Alquina, with the final game at night being an 18 to 12 victory for the home team.

Both games in the semi-finals, when Alquina defeated Orange and Fairview won from Waterloo, were overtime games, and most of the games during the day were hard fought.

In the first morning game, Waterloo defeated Gings, 38 to 8. In the second game, Orange eliminated Glenwood, 27 to 6, and in the third game, Alquina won out from Bentonville, 12 to 10.

In the semi-finals, Fairview beat Waterloo, 18 to 16, in an overtime game, and the Alquina team defeated Orange, 18 to 15, in an overtime contest, putting the two winners together for the night game and in which Fairview had the slight advantage, 18 to 12. A preliminary game was played at night, in which the Fairview girls won from the Orange girls, 17 to 15.

Between 400 and 500 people were present for the tourney and Tittsworth and Cook were the officials. The summary for the final game is as follows:

Bunyard	Best
McClure	F
Hackleman	C
Banks	G
Gwinup	White
Substitutions, Riebeson for Best.
Pauley for Williamson. Field goals.
Bunyard 3, McClure, 2, Hackleman 2, Grimme 3, Chance. Foul goals.
Bunyard, Hackleman 3, Best, Chance 3.

but they won't if the Lions play real basketball.

Richmond tackles Connersville Friday night on the Ik-mik floor, and they have received 75 tickets. It ought to be a hard game, and if Connersville was playing their best Friday night against Rushville, it will give us some idea as to what to expect of Richmond.

This Fan Says The Girls Got Real Tough

Dear Hitting 'em— Everything has two sides. Some other disinterested parties who also saw the Webb-Rushville girls basketball game Saturday night, wish to correct the statement printed in this column that the game was not rough.

The one who made that statement must be totally ignorant of girl's rules for the game was one of the roughest that has been played this year. Fouls were committed and not called that would not be tolerated even in a boy's game.

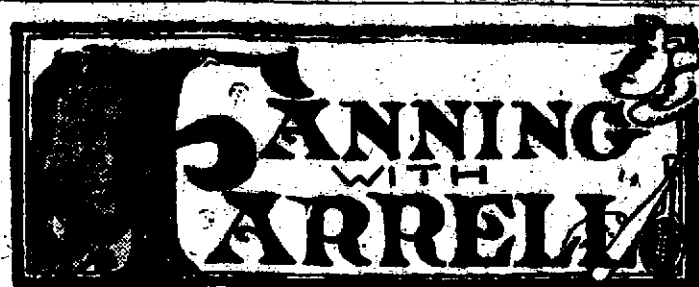

But why this disagreement between Webb and Rushville should spoil the girl's tournament cannot be understood by fans of girl's basketball. Would trouble between two boy's teams ever call off one of their tournaments? Well I guess not. Then let's not leave the girls cheated out of theirs.

ONE WHO SAW THE GAME

It does seem a shame to think that a little affair like the one that happened the other night, should spoil a tourney, just as the girls were making big preparations. However, if a tourney is held, it would be a good idea to leave the girl's teams in charge of girl's coaches, and not in charge of the men principals, and let the girls and their coaches run the games. It looks like baby play to fuss over a game of basketball. Hitting 'em is for the girls and their tourney.

And Shootin' 'em is pickin' Anderson. Well Hitting 'em wishes him better luck than he had during the past two seasons in pickin' Anderson.

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 20.—After a boxing contest recently in London between Johnny Sullivan and Bob Jackson an unsatisfactory decision was given and one of the spectators handed the referee a sock. Two other spectators went to the defense of the referee and police were called to stop a general battle that ensued. All the participants went to court and were fined.

One London paper remarked that it was unfortunate, because "boxing is, of all the sports, the least protected against its enemies."

Another "affair" resulted in a bout in which Danny Frush was boxing. Frush, who seems to be up to his old tricks, claimed a foul when he had been hit in the stomach and he went down.

The referee stopped the fight and then made them continue after a physician had said he was not fouled.

Frush went down again and claimed another foul. The bout was stopped again while another physician was called. He said that Frush was sick, but that he had not been fouled.

The referee then refused to give a decision. He announced that he would decide the next day, but he didn't.

Of course, complaints were made about this unusual procedure. The unusual part of these incidents, however, was that no public demand was made that boxing should be stopped because of the bad decision or because of the disorder which followed it.

It shows the difference between the British sports and American sports and possibly it presents one cause while boxing goes on in England and can survive only periodically in the United States.

Instead of asking for government action to stop the sport, British writers urged that boxing be placed upon firm legal ground. So far the best recognition that the game could get in England was a legal opinion that it was not illegal. But it never has been declared legal.

If You Need a Medicine, You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system, the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I have sold for many years and never hesitated to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has done this for me."

According to scores of testimonials and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

president in the senate represented him as feeling that the charges that have been made against members of his cabinet are not yet "sufficient for serious consideration."

One resolution, however, has already been introduced, demanding the resignation of Secretary Denby. Senator Walsh is scheduled to take further direct action against Denby today.

As a consequence, Senator Caraway, for one, is prepared to turn the guns directly upon the White House. Mr. Coolidge was the first vice president to sit with the cabinet. Senator Walsh has called the senate's attention to the Fall letter of June 1923, in which the then secretary mentioning that the oil leases were discussed at cabinet meetings.

"Where was Mr. Coolidge while the cabinet was discussing the legality of the Teapot Dome lease?" Caraway intends to ask.

With the attack shifting from former Secretary of the Interior Fall to Mr. Coolidge and two members of his cabinet—Secretary of the Navy Denby and Attorney General Daugherty—were indications that the administration was preparing to strike back at those critics who are trying to fast-

ten responsibility on the Coolidge regime for what happened in the late President Harding's term.

Mr. Coolidge will not at present ask either Denby or Daugherty to resign, despite formal demands in the senate that he do so, it was stated at the White House, after the president had conferred for two hours with a group of senate leaders he summoned last night.

Sinclair Reaffirms Denial

Paris, Jan. 29—Harry F. Sinclair will return to the United States as soon as possible to reply fully to charges of corruption in connection with leases his oil companies have obtained on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, he said in a telegram to Senator Longport today.

Sinclair reaffirmed his denial that he ever gave Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior or any other representative of the Harding government any money in consideration for the leases.

MEDALS AWARDED FOR TON LITTERS

ed To Winning Rush County Hog

ers' Association Points To Accomplishments of Work

Four gold medals and one bronze medal in the Rush County Ton Litter contest were awarded Monday afternoon by J. R. Wiley of Purdue University, representing the Indiana Livestock Breeders' association, which sponsors the Ton Litter Club.

The Rush county hog breeders thus honored were:

Chester Meal, who raised the heaviest ton litter ever raised in Indiana,
his thirteen head weighing 3210
pounds.

Charles Phillips, who had twelve
head weighing 2190 pounds.

Wilbur Gray, who raised the first
ton litter in Indiana this year, his twelve head weighing 2140 pounds.

R. W. Dawson, whose twelve head weighed 2065 pounds.

Allen Blackledge, whose eleven
head weighed 1630 pounds.

Mr. Wiley outlined the work done in the Ton Litter Club and pointed out the facts developed by the competition and some of the accomplishments of the work.

"The pure breeds win," said Mr.
Wiley, in commenting on the results of the club work. "There have been 97 ton litters in the state during the last two years and every one was sired by a pure bred boar. Most of the sows were pure bred.

"Pigs in the pure bred litters averaged 24 pounds at six months while
the pigs in the grade and mixed litters averaged 199 and 186 pounds
respectively at six months."

"Among other things," he continued, "the club work demonstrated the need of sanitation. Men who have produced ton litters have had their
sows clean when put in farrowing
quarters, washing them with soap
and water if necessary. The farrowing quarters have always been clean. The old straw and manure
have been removed and the houses disinfected. The sows and pigs have had the run of fresh pasture."

Eight men have enrolled for the Rush county club next year and those who desire to enter are urged to see the county agent before Feb-
ment.

By FRED BELL

the Rush County Farm Bureau when
an individual or organization takes
a decided stand against what we think is to our best interests and
think I should let the people I am trying to represent know the facts.

I refer at this time to a piece
which appeared in the Republican Saturday, Jan. 19th under the heading "Arlington Man Is Re-Elected",
which also was published by our State paper. You will notice a resolution was passed by the Grain Dealers' Ass'n, condemning the principle of co-operative marketing in so far as it concerns the Indiana wheat
crop and affirmed the belief that cooperative marketing of wheat was
not based on sound, economic principles, and was not to the best advantage of the farmers.

I wish to say that I know the present plan adopted by the Indiana Farm Bureau has not been decided
on hastily but on the contrary, after thoroughly going over the entire situation and going into every failure
that has been made along this line,
so as to find why the failure was
made, and comparing wheat to every
known farm commodity which is today being sold in a co-operative way by the pooling system which is proving such a success where ever properly managed. This plan has been adopted after the very best experts
on co-operative marketing, together
with some of the best brains that the
grain farmers and grain farmers only, representing the grain farmers
from each district.

I ask you the question. Which do you think, that a body of men such
of the Grain Dealers Ass'n have
closest to their heart the "best advantage of the farmers?"

W. B. Myers of Chicago, editor,
as given in the same issue, came to Severin Hotel on Dec. 18th by the
wheat conference held at the Indiana Farm Bureau, not only was
he not asked but was not wanted,
as was shown there that day by the
representatives of the grain farmers of this state and he did get a very cool reception. At that meeting this man Myers passed himself
off as a farmer, and I wish to say that it was necessary at this conference to pass a slip of paper around and require each man to sign name, address, and occupation as they knew the enemy was there. Now this same man Myers appear at the Grain Dealers' Conference and tells them the "farmers who sold their wheat in a pool last year got

less for it, than the farmers who
sold independently." In some instances they furnish figures which
are correct, I understand, but misleading as the prices taken on pool
wheat was under the most adverse
circumstances while the prices used by the old line firms were under the very best, which is not a fair comparison.

Prof. James E. Boyle of Cornell University, who spoke at the final session of the Grain Dealers convention takes a slap at the Pool, as
he states from his "detached standpoint", and I would think it was
from a professor in Cornell to a grain farmers' standpoint, points out
the crude methods and sites you to the Farmers Alliance, who tried a similar move in 1891 and failed. I agree with him, we wheat farmers in Indiana admit we have always with
few exceptions, been failures and
while we could point to failures in
to the conclusion that if we are not always to be failures, we must do something for ourselves. That something today with the farmer is cooperative marketing on a commodity basis and under the pooling system.

In explanation of what appeared in the Republican Jan. 21st under
Plan," where Mr. Hutchinson said,
"What the resolution condemned was
the so-called Sapiro wheat pool plan
which binds the farmers in a five year contract." Men who have studied cooperative marketing realize the importance of the five or ten year
contract as they know you must have control of the commodity in order to have some say in the price.
Under a yearly contract it would be much harder to control if you could control at all.

I am very much surprised at Mr.
Hutchinson's statement in regard to Rush county grain crop handled in 1923 or less than 5 cents gross mar-

INTEREST GROWS IN SHORT COURSE

AT KNIGHTSTOWN FEB. 12-14

Short Course is Something That Has
and Women of The Community

Some fifty outstanding men and women of the three counties, Hancock, Henry and Rush, are busily engaged in making thorough preparations for the big short course which will be held Feb. 12 and 13. Knights-town has been chosen as the place
in which to hold it since a very large crowd will likely have to be cared for comfortably. This can be done nicely between the big school gymnasium and the theatre. Special arrangements will be made so that at
time and at reasonable cost.

This short course is not something that has been thrust upon the community by Purdue but it is something that has been asked for by understanding men and women of the community. For fifteen years these short courses have been given in this state. Their worth is beyond question. They are one of the very best
of the services rendered to the people of Indiana, by the Extension Department of Purdue University.

Dependable information, given by dependable instructors, may be looked for. No one need hesitate about attending lest there should be little useful information given. From the first period of the short course to the last the work is important, valuable,
practical, interesting. The short course is not put on by the members
of any organization just for organization members but is put on by some
of the best farmers and business men for everyone interested in agriculture regardless altogether whether or not they belong to any organization.

FARM BUSINESS PURDUE COURSE

Purdue Man Explains How Grand-
fathers Became Wealthy Land

W. V. Kell Pointed Out Difference Between Period of Rising Land
Values And Present Conditions

How our grandfathers became
wealthy land-owners without the use of account books was explained by Walter V. Kell of the Farm Management Department of Purdue University to the farmers attending the Annual Short Course there recently.
Mr. Kell explained as follows:
"Until recently the land owner who
could make a living for his family
and pay his farm expenses was considered financially successful because his low-priced land gradually
became more valuable until his estate was worth several thousands of dollars."

He pointed out the difference between that period of rising land values and the present conditions.
"When land values remain fairly
constant as they are now," he said,
"the only means of attaining financial success is through the earnings of the farm business. In order to make any business successful it is necessary to know it thoroughly and
successful men in all business recognize the importance of detailed records. That is why we find nearly all of the most successful farmers using account books."

Mr. Kell then described the methods used by most farmers in keeping
their accounts. A farm record book
has been prepared each year for some time by the Farm Management Department at Purdue and it is designed to meet the needs of the farmer. It provides for a simple statement of farm receipts and expenses
together with an inventory of livestock feeds and supplies and machinery and equipment that is on hand at the beginning and end of the year.

"The book may be summarized,"
said Mr. Kell, "and the results of the year's business may be seen at a glance." In pointing out the use of the work he showed how it could be used in planning the next year's business. A study of the expense accounts may show places where the
cost of production may be lowered
and the sales of products show where

The following editorial by William
L. Stahl will appear in the February
number of the Hoosier Farmer:

When one of our popular authors
wrote his story of "Desert Gold" he wrote the story of the great wheat
growers of Indiana are taking their
pens in hand to write a new wheat
story. Not a story of the wheat in
the field, but a story of a new plan
of getting the wheat from the fields
to the markets. Wheat may grow in the fields and turn golden under the
summer suns, but to the wheat grower who cultivates the field and drills
the seed the term "golden" means
little beyond the signs of ripening
grain unless he is able to turn his
product into channels from which
will flow into his hands the gold that he will be able to use in the ordinary channels of his life.

Farmers of Indiana have seen their
wheat fields turn gold year after year; good years of fine yields. Farmers of Indiana also have seen years
when severe winters killed the seed
in the ground and the part that
turned golden was the minority part,
and the real gold was scarce. Farmers of Indiana, in many lean years,
have seen their product go into the hands of speculators at a price offered by the speculators, and the only gold connected with this operation was the gold that rolled into the speculators' and the food gamblers' coffers and the farmer lived on what he could borrow from a friendly bank and staked his fortunes and

his welfare on the crops of the future.

So the farmer of Indiana has determined to write a new chapter in
his wheat history. Under the auspices of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation Indiana farmers are about to be asked to join in a movement for the co-operative marketing of the state's bread crop. Contracts have been prepared, a campaign of education is under way, and
soon the individual wheat grower will be asked to attach his name along the dotted line; he will be asked to decide whether he wishes to continue along the old route, dumping his product as soon as it is harvested; taking what the buyer offers,
because there has been no other
way, or retain control of his own
product through his own organization, sending it to market in an orderly way to meet the demand at the point of demand, and thus having something to say about the price that he is to receive for it.

decision would be an easy matter.
Ordinarily, it would be. But this is not an ordinary occasion. The enemies of co-operative marketing are
abroad and their campaign is a subtle campaign. It is a campaign of manipulation of figures; of innuendo; of deceit, and before the campaign is ended, perhaps, there will
enter into it plain lying. Influences
are at work on the subrosa order.
The farmer is hearing persons wis-
per into his ear that he be cautious.

SELL AT THE LOWEST PRICES

Every store has certain fixed overhead expenses that must be met each week. The merchant who sells only a small amount of goods must sell at a higher price than the one that sells a large amount of goods in order to meet these expenses.

Volume of business is the thing that determines how low goods may be sold and still leave a living profit for the seller.

OUR SALES ARE VERY LARGE AND OUR PROFITS ARE VERY SMALL

County Farm Bureau Chairman Replicates to Wheat Pool Critics

taking a margin of from 14 cents to 18 cents according to actual statistics. Don't be fooled. I am rather inclined to admit his statement as to Rush county on less than 5 cents is correct, but he did not give you the impression that it is altogether two different things, while the Rush county price must be the difference in what the elevator men paid and received net, while the pool price included all this and then some.

The Oklahoma pool price differential was 14.6 per bushel, distributed as follows: local elevator charge 4.5 cents which should be your comparison with Rush county 2 cents per bushel made by Association overhead charge and included office maintenance, such as salaries of Sales, Traffic and Auditing Department heads, clerks, and stenographers printing and stationary telephone and telegrams, rent, equipment, etc. This leaves 8 cents per bushel which represents all terminal charges and according to public accountants is a productive cost, that is, it enhances the value of the wheat and includes loading and unloading, mixing, inspection, storage and insurance.

This pool was carried in storage for an average of 5 months carrying an average of 5 months carrying cost averaging 1 1/2 cents per bushel per month.

The Federal Trade Commission recently published some data on the grain trade business, which I presume is good authority on this subject. Their last report on the grain trade, designed as volume 4, shows the spread on wheat, between producer and converter by old line methods, was 18.80c. The Oklahoma wheat growers association cost 14.6c making a difference of 4 1/2c per bushel in favor of marketing wheat under the cooperative plan with a very small percent of their wheat under contract. What could be the effect with 90 percent under contract, such as the tobacco crop is today?

I wish to say in conclusion as I see it, we have no fight on-hand with the elevator man, we need him and he needs us, and personally I know some houses controlled in Rush county.

are friendly to a move of this kind. On the other hand we realize the elevator man is as helpless in the wheat market as the individual farmer, but we do realize we will have a big fight on-hand with the higher ups in the grain trade as there is no place for them in this kind of a marketing machine.

Says Speculators' Opposition

He is being told that while it is a perfectly simple and logical proposition to market every other product under the sun co-operatively, it just cannot be done in the case of wheat.

The same influences said the same thing when the great cooperatives of the cotton fields of the south began to organize, only then they said it was perfectly simple and logical co-operatively to market every product under the sun except cotton. And when the tobacco men of the middle south and of the middle north turned to co-operative marketing, they heard the same thing; that everything under the sun could be co-operatively marketed except tobacco.

to read the history of the great cotton and tobacco co-operatives to know that these influences were not honest. The cotton co-operatives and tobacco co-operatives are going concerns. Their records speak for themselves; they are so open that all who run may read, so there is no need for discussing those records here. Why, then, shall the wheat grower be misled by the statement that anything in the world can be marketed co-operatively but wheat? There is no logical reason. Who is backing the wheat pool in Indiana? It is the grain dealers? Is it the speculator on the Boards of Trade?
